Day Dispatches.

(By the Western Associated Press.)

PACIFIC COAST.

Villard and His Overtures to the Central Pacific.
SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 26.—The Chronicle, in an editorial drawing attention to the exorbitant local rates established by the Northern Pacific, says: "What Villard designs to do for California has also become apparent by his offer to the Central Pacific to pool the rates on through freights, he taking the lion's share of the business. While consenting that they shall remain at present high figures, he offers no hope of relief if matters are to be settled out of court. He will not expect any sympathy in California on account of his Wall street trouble. Unless the Northern Pacific can see its way to independent action, looking to the relief of the people, the Pacific Coast and Huntington have the road, and so encompass under the weight of so monstrous a monopoly their own destruction."

San Joaquin's Anti-Central Pacific.

STOCKTON, Sept. 26.—Several propositions have been made to the Supervisors and their council by the compromise of the case of this county against the C. P. R. R., for Western Pacific bonds. This county subscribed for two hundred and fifty thousand dollars worth, but allowed the stock to pass into other hands, and suit for the same amount of bonds is still pending. The Superior Court, about three hundred and sixty thousand and dollars will make the county even, and it is reported that through the act of Colton the railroad will pay that sum in full settlement.

Veterans' Home Trouble.

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 26.—The State Central Committee of the Union of Veterans of the Democratic Legion have presented resolutions calling upon the Veterans' Home directory to disincorporate. In their report they ask that a committee of state and national commandants of the Veterans' Home be given the control of the association be given to the Grand Army of the Republic, and that until such a change be consummated, it would be the sense of the meeting that the soldiers of the Union, whose subscriptions to the fund were viewed with grave suspicion, the report was unanimously adopted.

The Alaskan Gold Fields.

Rich Finds Disputed—A Good Country for Gold.

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 26.—H. D. Wolfe, who has been visiting Alaska, in a lecture before the Geographical Society of this city, said that the reports about the large gold discoveries made by Schieffelin in Alaska were utterly false. That there were poor prospects for miners in that country, and those who go there will suffer great hardships. The schooner Kodak in the Alaska Fur Company trade, on her last trip from the north, brought down four Alaska miners, in excellent state of health, from the Klondyke, all aged 30. Three of them for the Berlin Museum. The other has been retained by the Fur Company. It is that of the body of a woman wrapped in a mantle of furs, the entire weight not exceeding fifteen pounds.

GENERAL DISPATCHES.

Banquet to the Lord Chief Justice of England.

CHICAGO, Sept. 26.—The leading business men of this city, tendered a banquet to Lord Chief Justice Coleridge at the Grand Hotel. Three hundred and fifty representative people of this city were present. Judge Drummond, of the United States Courts, who presided, introduced the guest of the evening, Lord Coleridge, who replied in a most happy vein of mingled humor and wisdom upon incidents and impressions connected with his visit to America. At the conclusion was greatest mirth, while the guests were the words "three cents."

Assassinated Assassination of a British Consul.

NEW YORK, Sept. 26.—An insane man attempted the life of W. R. Hoane, second British Vice Consul, by firing two shots at him. When the prisoner was taken to the station house, he described himself as John A. Feeney, aged 26 years, an Irishman by birth, coachman by trade. Nothing is known about Feeney in this city and no doubt of his sanity is expressed.

The Herald's "Two Cents."

NEW YORK, Sept. 26.—The Herald and its editorial committee puts the words "two cents" on its margin, where hitherto have been the words "three cents."

Attempted Assassination of a British Consul.

NEW YORK, Sept. 26.—An insane man attempted the life of W. R. Hoane, second British Vice Consul, by firing two shots at him. When the prisoner was taken to the station house, he described himself as John A. Feeney, aged 26 years, an Irishman by birth, coachman by trade. Nothing is known about Feeney in this city and no doubt of his sanity is expressed.

Lord Louis' Life at Ischia.

ROMA, Sept. 26.—The only report of fatalities consequent upon the late earthquake at Ischia states that 1,190 persons were killed and 374 were injured.

SANTA ANA.

Improvements, Agriculture and the Drama, &c.

SANTA ANA, Sept. 23, 1883.—Santa Ana is still on the boom. There are many new buildings going up around the edge of town, and in the country there is a good deal of land changing hands in all directions. In and around Gospel Swamp the corn is the finest ever seen in the history of the settlement. The corn is so high they will be compelled to pull them down by hand. It is in the market a good deal of ears of grain, and a number of small gardens are being raised.

THE GLENWOOD

Summer and Winter Resort for Pleasure and Health.

Riverside, San Bernardino County, Cal.

The GLENWOOD is universally recognized as one of the best and most attractive in the State. It is a fine, airy, well-constructed hotel, very conveniently located, with pleasant surroundings in the way of fruit orchards, vineyards, and flower gardens. Around the building, on both floors, are broad balconies, forming fine promenades, parts of which are encased with glass and trellised with vines. He also engages diseases without power over so many individuals. His practice is perfect, and gives him a large income. Dr. H. J. Smith, of Los Angeles, has been associated with Dr. John H. Marshall, and has fitted up his Institute at considerable expense with Dr. John H. Marshall, and Dr. H. J. Smith, of Los Angeles, Battie, which is pronounced by eminent physicians to be the best in the country, and those who go there will suffer great benefits.

The schooner Kodak in the Alaska Fur Company trade, on her last trip from the north, brought down four Alaska miners, in excellent state of health, from the Klondyke, all aged 30.

Printing and Binding
There is nothing in the Printing and Binding line which the Times-Mirror Printing, Billing and Binding Company does not do. Largest in Southern California, is not prepared to execute in a manner equal to that of any of the firms in the country. Our work is complete bound in Turkish leather, Morocco, cloth, paper, in any style desired. Our work is guaranteed to be equal to that done in San Francisco.

LETTERS FROM THE PEOPLE.

(This is the Times-Mirror's Public Forum. It is open to all who have something timely and interesting to say, on topics of current interest, may stand up to give their independent opinions to the people; the writers being responsible for their own sentiments and statements. Correspondents are politely urged to be circumspect, and to the point; to write plainly, and upon subjects of the shortest order.)

The Rights of Licensed Gamblers
To the Editor of the Daily Times.—Sir—Allow me a word of approval of your position on the proposed gambling law. I hope our city fathers will conclude that we do not stand in need of any such a law. But if they should, I am quite sure that an indignant people will see to it that the next Council will be composed of men that will wipe out that foul disgrace. I am a tax-payer and one of the unfortunate ones who have to hire mechanics and laboring men to carry on my business, and I am sure the pauper sum that would go into our city treasury would be no compensation for the damage it would directly inflict upon a manufacturer's business, saying nothing of the lasting disgrace upon us as a city. The manufacturer that is trying to harmonize the natural dissensions between labor and capital in Southern California and satisfies the consumer of our goods, and at the same time pay for skilled workers, has quite enough to contend with without having thrown about him all those that are engaged in gambling, drinking and their other more favorite sister. While on the contrary we should be encouraged with good wages and opportunities for the removal of these evils and a means to enforce them. If we have to pay high prices for workmen, we certainly should have the satisfaction of seeing the money either go to help build up our city or used for the cost of the manufacture. I would like to, instead of going into the pockets of licensed houses of ill-fame and gambling. The said short-sighted capitalist that has a flat-ironed head, and who is farthering his interests when he favors licensing gambling houses can only afford to pay him big rent. Did he ever stop to think where the support for these gambling houses comes from? Drive out the gamblers, and you drive out the mechanics.

A capitalist the other day, when asked what he would take for a piece of property, said "I'll take $100,000." "For?" said he, "what could I do with the money?" I will now tell him: let the money at a fair rate of interest to the manufacturer and he in turn will pay it out to the mechanics who will then get rents and the necessities of life.

Unless that policy is adopted by some of our capitalists, we will be compelled to live on the rents paid by the manufacturers for corner lots, and many of the fine buildings that are going up will go begging for tenants. I did not start out to write an article on the importance of the encouragement of the manufacturer, but when I saw a blow aimed directly against them, however unwittingly it may be done, I can offer my protest. It is all very well for us to talk about encouraging the manufacturer, but it is cheap and no one knows this better than an experienced manufacturer, and he is not going to invest his money where he is to put on a par with a gambling house. The manufacturer that has a high pay will do if gamblers have a high pay license would hold just as good in favor of any other crime.

Complaints Against the Public Library.

To the Editor of the Times.—Sir—I wish, through the columns of your paper, to find a little aid with the management of one of our city institutions, the Public Library.

I represent a large proportion of the inhabitants of Los Angeles, the working men. We work hard through the week, with very little chance for recreation, and the Sunday is the only opportunity that we have. The Public Library offers, of resting our bodies and improving our minds, a book that we can heartily appreciate.

Now, an institution of this character should be free, in fact as well as in name; yet we find it tied up with a restriction that practically deprives us of the benefits supposed to be conferred by its maintenance as a free library. The public library is always shut down to the hours of opening of a private library that shall be open in every detail of its management.

It will not do to tell us, the working men, that we are here to be church pews of the day. There are many of our class, who care more for a good book than for the pews in the church. In our case we are not at the meetinghouse and sit through a weary hour or two, to hear a man no better than ourselves tell us what he does not know, in a style we cannot understand. We do not care for the modicum of used books, to be sold in common with the greatest and best minds of past and present ages.

Under existing rules we find ourselves getting a small sliver instead of the whole garment lost by that right belongs to us; and we cannot help feeling that, did the officials who have this business in charge consult the wishes of the people and their own convenience less, the result would be to our advantage.

I only wish to shake a long speech, and to end it with a few words of advice to the day. There are many of our class, who care more for a good book than for the pews in the church. In our case we are not at the meetinghouse and sit through a weary hour or two, to hear a man no better than ourselves tell us what he does not know, in a style we cannot understand. We do not care for the modicum of used books, to be sold in common with the greatest and best minds of past and present ages.

Under existing rules we find ourselves getting a small sliver instead of the whole garment lost by that right belongs to us; and we cannot help feeling that, did the officials who have this business in charge consult the wishes of the people and their own convenience less, the result would be to our advantage.

I only wish to shake a long speech, and to end it with a few words of advice to the day. There are many of our class, who care more for a good book than for the pews in the church.
